J. J. Cohen,

I LOVE TO HEAR THE STORY.

I love to hear the story

Which angel-voices tell,

How once the King of glory

Came down on earth to dwell;

I love to hear the story

Which angels tell me now,

That the Lord came down to save me,

Because he loved me so.

I'm glad my blessed Savior

Was once a child like me,

And that he wept and smiled,

And that he loved me so.

His little ones might be,

His footsteps here below,

Who never will forget me,

Because he loved me so.

To sing his love and mercy

My sweetest songs I'll sing,

And though I cannot see him,

His love he hears my praise!

For he has promised me,

That I shall sing his love

To sing among his angels,

Because he loved me so.

GO AND LABOR.

Waken, sleepers, for the sunlight

Flecks with gold the shining blue,

And the labor-hour is waiting

With a nation's work to do;

On the earth, henceforth waiting

Raise to action, henceforth waiting

'Till the price we would win.

Haste, oh! haste the world glance over;

See, then, it's time to sleep

Ere the day fades, and the shadows

O'er the mountain-summits creep.

Over these contending armies

Gather now in fierce array;

From the realms of Light and Darkness

Truth and Error meet to-day.

On the side of death and sin

Long and fierce must be the fight;

Thou' the Right at last shall win.

Will you join the Right? Old hasten!

Hark! the Captain calls for you,

For, alas! the valiant-hearted

On the side of Truth are few.

There, the ripened grain abundant

Bonds above the fertile plain,

And the Master's voice is calling:

"Laborers, gather in my grain."

He calls for a sturdy reaper

Thrusts his sickle in the grain;

But the Master still is calling:

"Shall he call for you in vain?"

Shall the waving sheaves, ungathered,

Lie among the dawns of even,

When you might have borne them up

To the granary of Heaven?

You, who have no heart for conflict,

And no strength to bind the sheaves,

With its sickle gather round me,

There the Lord is standing waiting—

Waiting, it may be, for you.

Hear you not his soft tones saying:

"Here is work for you to do?"

Purple grapes, in gleaming plumpness,

Hang from every drooping vine;

You wait and gather and crush them

Into sacramental wine.

Oh! it matters not what portion

Of the Master's work may fall

To this laborer or to that;

But he has a place for all.

Never did a sowing sower

Fall before the mercy seat,

Where were uttered words of pardon,

But were added deep and sweet:

"Gladden in the bending blue;

I will help thee in the toiling;

I have work for thee to do."

Those Official Bonds.

It seems that the bonds executed by the State Auditor, Treasurer and Financial Agent are worthless, and that the present radical legislature is endeavoring to prevent an inquiry, which it is herein developed the fact. Things have indeed come to a pretty pass, and the resources of the State are being handed by a set of irresponsible men who are unable or unwilling to secure the people against their peculations. It is bad enough to be taxed to raise enormous amounts of money for State purposes, but to see it pass into the hands of bad men, without even the assurance that it will be legitimately applied to the purposes for which it is raised, is too bad. We shall soon see whether the legislature will order the inquiry or not.

The following item from the Advertiser puts the case in a strong light:

"We are satisfied on investigation that the interests of the people of Alabama demand that the legislature should at once appoint a committee to report, after full inquiry, the condition of the Financial Agent, Auditor and Treasurer. These bonds are particularly those of the Financial Agent and Treasurer, are positively worthless. One has only to contrast them with the bonds

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.
SATURDAY, MARCH 1st, 1873.

The Democrats in Enfield have elected their municipal ticket.

Our genial Representative, we see by the proceedings of the House, is back in his seat, ready and able for duty.

We want our subscribers to read the negro speeches published, to those negroes about them, and explain to them how their white Radical friends have gone back on them on the civil rights bill.

"Senator Edwards arose in his place and said he was ready and anxious for an investigation."

Then let the investigation proceed, by all means, and let us see what manner of man Edwards is.

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, late Vice President of the Southern Confederacy, has been elected to Congress, and will take his seat. Now let Congress remove the disabilities of President Davis and he will be sent there to take the place of some despicable carpet-bagger.

Pope County, Arkansas, seems to be rather an unhealthy locality for Radical office holders. One Captain Herriot and Sheriff Dodson have just been killed there, which makes the twelfth Radical official killed in the county since Reconstruction.

The negroes of Georgia and Tennessee have a wild rumor that the so-called hiring agents, who have been gathering "hands" for Arkansas and Louisiana plantations, are no less than recruiting officers for the Cuban Patriot Army. Darkies are mighty shy of hiring agents since they have heard this.

The Prince Imperial of France, and possibly the future Emperor of that country, is a printer. His father, the Emperor Louis Napoleon, apprenticed him, after he had received his military education. He is said to be a fast compositor, and before the fall of his father's dynasty had a printing office of his own in which was one of the prettiest presses in the world.

We present this week, for the consideration of our readers, some of the speeches of the negro members of the Legislature on the Civil Rights Bill. The original bill proposes perfect equality in hotels, rail-road cars, churches, theatres, public schools and other public places. The substitute, reported by Alex. White, provides equal accommodations for both blacks and whites in those various places, but stipulates that the races be kept separate. The negroes want to mix and the white Radicals do not, and this is the fight in the camp of the faithful.

It has become so fashionable for the little Radical white-smuffers of the Legislature to state upon their indifference as to what the public press may say about them, that even the negro members, when it takes half a day to spell out an editorial, have got at it. And yet the press of the State has forced Lewis to dismiss his bondless Financial Agent, and forced Senator Edwards to ask an investigation. One Democrat and one Radical have been brought to tears so far, which is pretty good for one session. It never will be known how many villanies and rascalities these little Radical white-smuffers have been made to forego through fear of exposure through the public press. They "don't care what the press says." Oh no!

It will be seen from our dispatches from Louisiana that affairs are becoming quite interesting down there. Governor McJannet seems to be a man of energy and he is backed by a plucky Legislature. President Grant has wearied of his responsibility and earnestly invokes Congress to take some action in reference to Louisiana. He announces, however, in his message to Congress, that if Congress takes no action upon Louisiana affairs, he will support the Kellogg Government. If such a course is forced upon him by the inaction of Congress, it remains to be seen whether Gov. McJannet will use his militia solely against Federal troops, in support of the principle of Local Self Government so ably invoked by the most radical of all Radicals, Senator Morton, in reference to this very subject.

The county of Sumter has triumphantly elected, by 311 majority, Wm. G. Little, a staunch Democrat, to fill the vacancy in the State Senate occasioned by the death of Gilmore (radical).

This gives the Democrats a majority of one in the Senate, and all of McKinstry's villany and Glass' treachery goes for naught. We hope the Democrats will improve the opportunity to kill the Penitentiary land job, the Florida and Mississippi annexation schemes and other dishonest measures the Radicals have in pickle. We hope also that Democratic Senators have profited sufficiently by past experience to enable them to see the necessity for a more compact organization on their part, a more rigid discipline among themselves and a fearless leadership. No man among them who flinched before that personal coward and braggart, McMinistry, in the late Martin-Miller contest, is cut out for such a leader as the exigencies of the times demand. They have been tried and found wanting. Most of them are not deficient in the elements that go to make up good Senators in times less troublous; but now, when violence must be met with violence, and conservatism is equivalent to cowardice, the leadership of the Senate should go into the hands of some one not afraid to take upon himself a great personal responsibility and who can be more audacious, when occasion requires, than the most audacious Radical dare be.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., February 22.

The Legislature adjourned to-day, it being the 22nd of February, the birthday of the Father of our Country, who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen." This glorious day, when seditious influences are being fanned by the creators of the thousand and one Literary Societies of the Colleges of the country, is almost forgotten by the busy world, except by those who draw their pay from Uncle Sam or some State Treasurer, and by school boys. Washington, the great old Virginia gentleman, is not forgotten, but of the spirit of demoralization, Communism and lust of power and greed for gain, have almost extinguished that respect we were wont to show the memory of this hero of our almost extinct race of nature's noblemen.

PARSON'S TRIAL.

The dispatches last night informed you that Judge Busted had refused to push the warrant against Mr. Parsons. This morning the case was called, at 10 A. M., when defendant's counsel stated to the Court that they would waive a preliminary examination, and give bond to answer any indictment the Grand Jury of the United States District Court might find against him. The Court decided that the case must proceed at once. The counsel for defendants, Messrs. White, Pelham and Ferguson, withdrew from the case and left the Court Room. The case then proceeded. Mr. Rice examining witnesses for the prosecution, and Judge Busted limiting the questions to a very narrow compass. The defendants said not a word in defense, either in examining witnesses or in any other way. At the conclusion of the testimony, a portion of which is set out in this letter, Judge Busted proceeded to give a history of the case from its beginning down to the present time, and concluded by discharging the defendants from custody.

JUDGE BUSTED'S DECISION.

On account of Judge Busted limiting the questions of the prosecutor in such narrow bounds, is claimed by the prosecution to be the cause of the failure to prove the conspiracy. One of the witnesses, Philip Morris, who was sworn in by the Court, was in the Court room during the trial, and was seen in the hall of the Court room immediately after adjournment. The evidence as adduced, certainly shows Mr. Parsons guilty of conspiracy. The evidence as adduced, certainly shows Mr. Parsons guilty of conspiracy. The evidence as adduced, certainly shows Mr. Parsons guilty of conspiracy. The evidence as adduced, certainly shows Mr. Parsons guilty of conspiracy.

THE SCENE IN THE COURT ROOM.

The U. S. Court Room, on the corner of Market and Perry streets, was last night packed with spectators both on the night and this morning. Last night during which was delivered in an earnest and eloquent manner, he taking high ground in favor of maintaining the supremacy of State sovereignty and deprecating the centralization policy of the General Government, the whole audience were spell-bound as it were by his brilliant effort. Judge Rice was too unwell to make a speech, having exhausted himself in the afternoon, submitted what he had to say in writing. This was a sad disappointment to many who desired to hear this versatile genius reply to Mr. White.

MR. PARSON'S APPEARANCE.

After the counsel for the defense had withdrawn from the case, he was called without counsel and with no one except his son, a young lawyer from Talladega. He maintained a dignified silence throughout the trial, answering Judge Busted's questions in monosyllables until when the history of the case, Judge Busted failed to read a note addressed to him as Lewis E. Parsons, "Esq." and read a note from him to Judge Busted, addressed to Richard Busted, "Esq." He stated that that note was addressed in the spirit with the one received. His title as Speaker of the House, in his capacity he was arrested, was not recognized, and he replied in the same spirit, not recognizing the title of Judge Busted. Judge Busted immediately corrected the mistake. Throughout the trial he has shown the utmost deference to Mr. Parsons.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., February 24, 1873.

The Civil Rights, or Social Equality Bill was the order of the day as soon as the House met at 12 o'clock.

Jim Greene, a colored member from Hale, took the floor and spoke for more than an hour, advocating the passage of the original bill which had been reported on adversely by the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Parsons having recovered his inability, descended from the Chair, and advocated a substitute to the bill, thus "going back" on his promise to the colored brethren.

Mr. Boyd, for more than an hour, poured hot shot into the white Radicals on the floor, who winced under the galling fire.

The white Republicans Republicans of North Alabama are a unit against it, or any substitute that may be adopted.

From the Capital.

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, ALA., February 25, 1873.

In the Senate, this morning, Mr. Hewitt arose to a question of privilege, and in no mild terms pronounced the statement made in the State Journal, concerning his not being in earnest in relation to the investigation of the conduct of Senator Glass, as false and without foundation. Senator Edwards arose in his place and said he was anxious and ready for an investigation of the whole matter, and demanded that the committee be appointed. He is certainly gratifying to the friends of Mr. Edwards to see that he has, at last, taken this position, and it is to be earnestly hoped he will not cease his clamor until the whole matter is thoroughly sifted. He owes it to himself, his constituents and the State to do so.

THE $1,500,000 BOND BILL.

This bill, with an amendment which prevents the Governor negotiating any other bonds, has passed both Houses and to the Governor. The amendment was to prevent the Governor from negotiating any of the bonds under the $2,000,000 Bill passed by the Court House Legislature.

THE REVENUE AND ELECTION BILLS.

These bills are now ready to be reported to the Committees leaving the charge. The Election Bill would have been considered to-day, but for the great anxiety of the negroes to have the

It is evident that both the substitute and the original Bill are not being considered to-day, but for the great anxiety of the negroes to have the

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL.

What the Colored Brethren Have to Say on the Subject.

Speech of Jim Greene (Colored) on the Civil Rights Bill.

I live in Alabama, and I believe I have more opposition in my own party, than from the Democrats. I am a negro, and I am not responsible for my position, but I am responsible for what I say on this floor, and I intend to stand up to the element I represent. The hour has nearly called forth its speakers when I am to be no more. The Constitution gives us all the rights of any man. If I have not the Constitution to guide me, I have no right to speak. I have no right to speak. I have no right to speak. I have no right to speak.

GRATIFYING WAX.—This is an article that every farmer should keep on hand, ready for use whenever needed, for it is valuable for various other purposes besides that of grafting. Wounds made in grafting large trees will heal very much sooner if covered with this wax, and if a piece of bark is neatly stripped from a tree, the place should be covered over with it, and the wound will remain sound and healthy underneath. There are several receipts for making this wax, but I have found the following better than any other one tried: Melt in a basin one pound of tallow, two pounds of beeswax and four pounds of rosin; stir well together, and keep in a good place in the dish in which it is melted. It is ready for use as soon as it is cooled. It is very cheap, and one third less quantity can be used.—Exchange.

Dr. Hall says that it ought to be extensively known that ordinary boiled rice, eaten with boiled milk, is one of the best remedies known for the cure of loose bowels. Its efficacy is increased if it is brewed like coffee, and then boiled and eaten at intervals of four hours, taking no other food or liquid until the cure is effected. It is interesting to note that it is taken with it, and the patient will keep quiet in a warm bed, until it becomes an almost infallible remedy.

SPEECH OF WAX IN LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, February 20.—The following proclamation was issued this evening:

STATE OF LOUISIANA,

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, Feb. 26.

By virtue of the authority in me vested by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana, I call upon and command all citizens of the Parish of Orleans, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, subject to and capable of militia duty, to report forthwith to the Headquarters of Major General Eugene Wagnan, commanding the first division of Louisiana militia, at No. 122 Gravier street, for the purpose of enrollment as militia, for assignment to several militia commands now in process of organization in the Parish of Orleans. Persons having arms will have preference in said enrollment.

The militia thus organized, will be disbanded so soon as the present emergency and exigency in public affairs shall cease. (Signed) John McEnery. The following joint resolution of the McEnery Legislature was promulgated this evening: Resolved by the Senate and House Representatives of the State of Louisiana, in General Assembly convened, that Governor McEnery, be and he is hereby requested to use the Civil, and if necessary, the Military power of the State to reinstate the Judge of the Third, Fourth, Seventh and Eighth District Courts of the Parish of Orleans, on their respective benches, and to sustain them in the exercise of their Judicial powers.

The Louisiana Bill Reported by Senator Carpenter.

The bill reported by Mr. Carpenter, from the special committee on Louisiana matters, declares the election held in that State on the 4th of November last to be null and void, and reinstates in office the State officers and Legislature who held position at that time. It further requires a new election to be held for State officers and members of the Legislature on the second Tuesday of next May, and directs William B. Woods, United States Circuit Judge for Louisiana, to proceed to Louisiana and appoint two citizens, of different politics to be State registrars, who shall cause a new registration to be made of all legally qualified voters of the State, commencing March 18 and ending ten days prior to the date of election. The State registrars are to appoint two supervisors of registration for each parish, except Jefferson and Orleans, for which a greater number are to be appointed, and in each parish the registrars are to be divided in politics. The President is empowered to employ military forces on the application of the Governor of the State or the United States Circuit Judge for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, and enforce judicial process, and $200,000 is appropriated to defray the expenses of registration and election.

Special Notice.

WE are out of money, and respectfully notify all who owe us debts contracted prior to the 1st of January last, that we are COMPELLED TO COLLECT.

ROWAN, DEAN & CO. Feb. 1st, 1872—3t.

"Lines, by a bereaved mother," sent us through the hands of a valued lady friend, will appear next week. Received too late for this issue.

"Good morning madam, what have you got to sell this morning?" "Well I have a few eggs, little butter and some chickens."

"Well just bring them to my house and I will buy them."

"Oh no, I am going to take them to W. T. & C. S. Alexander for they will give me more than anybody."

We ask our friends who have communications in the office to be patient. We will try and get them in next week.

While the newspapers of other counties have their twelve and fifteen columns of tax sales, we can exhibit only eight tax sales, or barely one-fourth of a column. This was the case last year and when we pointed out the fact with pride, some of our exchanges expressed doubt as to the truth of the assertion. It speaks well for Calhoun, the Democratic county of Calhoun. Please note ye impecunious, Tax-dodging Radicals who have no feeling but hatred for our noble and honest county.

Dried Beef at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

W. T. & C. S. Alexander sells Groceries cheaper than anyone in Jacksonville.

Cigar Emporium at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's. They keep good Cigars.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Guano, of which Mr. James F. Crow, one of our popular young Grocery Dealers, is agent for. Call on Mr. Crow and learn prices.

The sensible Tax Assessor of Calhoun in view of possible future difficulties, took only the ad valorem value of the property of the county, and therefore has no difficulty in making up his assessment according to existing laws passed by the present General Assembly. In this he has shown strong good sense and been actuated by most patriotic motives, which the people will appreciate. Last week in speaking of the necessity which now devolved on Assessors to revise and correct their lists, we were ignorant of what our Assessor had done in the premises, though we had confidence enough in his patriotism to know that he would not be quick to assess under any law of the Court House mob.

WHO WANTS A HOME? Col. Parr offers for sale three nice residences in Jacksonville—prices reasonable—terms accommodating—call and see him.

No doubt you have all read the story about George Washington cutting his father's fine cherry tree. I will now tell you another one of George's great acts. One day George's father left home to attend to some of his business, and when he came home he went into his garden and found his fine Cherry Tree cut down and all his Bacon, Lard, Flour, Meal and all his Groceries gone. So he went into the house and called George: "George, my son, come here, who cut my Cherry Tree down?" George looked up in his father's face and said: "Father I can't tell a lie, W. T. & C. S. Alexander cut it down and took all the Groceries."

Col. Parr has a very large stock of all kinds of Garden Seeds—IRISH POTATOES—SEED. OATS, Corn, Bacon, Meal—ONIONS, Buttons and Sets, Red and Silver Shins. See his Stock.

I heard a lady remark the other day that W. T. & C. S. Alexander kept the neatest Confectionery in town. I don't wonder that she made this remark, for the business is conducted by C. S. Alexander, and Charlie is a neat young man.

In a recent lecture on the Sandwich Islands, "Mark Twain" said that in fifty years the race would be extinct. Their color was of rich dark brown. They were not in the least vicious, but gentle and harmless. The women wear a single loose garment that falls straight from the neck to the heels. In the upper country the men wear—well usually they wore a smile, or a pair of spectacles, or anything of that kind.

Great quantity of Irish Potatoes at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's.

Go to W. T. & C. S. Alexander's and get some of the great Western stock remedy.

A chunk of gold weighing over 240 lbs. and worth about $250,000 was found in the claims of Yo Yen & Co., at Moore's Flat, Colorado, on Tuesday of week before last. Those claims are by a Chinese company to whom they were sold cheap having, as was supposed, been exhausted.

Big excitement yesterday at W. T. & C. S. Alexander's about the stock remedy.

Mansfield's Hungarian Balm Cures Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

With entire confidence in its merits, we would commend this preparation to all who may be afflicted with any disease of the Lungs, as a safe and effectual medicine. It has been used, particularly in the Western States, with great success in many cases where the life of the patient was despaired of. We believe this to be the best Lung Remedy now before the public, and worthy of a fair trial by those having any affection of the Lungs.

READ THE TESTIMONY.

MEMPHIS, TENN., April 21, 1871.

Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee:

I am from Albany, N. Y., whither I will return in about two weeks. I have been troubled with a severe cold, spitting blood, and many other symptoms of Lung disease, having been confined to my bed three or four weeks. I could not sit up, and so weak I could not move. I used your Hungarian Balm with entire success. It afforded quick relief, and with the aid of a couple of doses of Marsh's Sarsaparilla to work out the cold, am now entirely cured. Believing it is a positively duty to others who may be similarly affected, I thought it best to let you know of it. Three doses of the Hungarian Balm, cured the spitting of blood.

ASSAULT.—Lewis E. Parsons assaulted Mr. Hunter, of Lowndes, in the United States Court Room last night after the adjournment of the examination of Parsons and Williams, who had been arraigned before Judge Busted, charged with a violation of the Enforcement Acts. Parsons struck Mr. Hunter several blows, when the parties were separated by gentlemen who were present.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT IN CHEROKEE COUNTY.—One night last week Mr. G. M. Crouch shot his own son, N. B. Crouch, thinking that he was shooting some person that was stealing his chickens. The news that reaches us concerning this sad accident, is this: There was something disturbing the chickens, and N. B. Crouch went out of the house into the yard to see what was the matter, and while out there his father went out also, and seeing his son, supposing him to be a thief, went back into the house and got a gun and fired at him, the discharge taking effect in his son's body. It was thought that N. B. Crouch would not live. It is with regret that we chronicle this sad accident. Since the above was put in type, we have heard that Mr. Crouch has died.—Gadsden Times.

Boyd, of Marshall. This gentleman is a representative Democrat. His conduct in the last Legislature made him respected and admired from the Tennessee to the Gulf. His action during the present session, has commended him most warmly to the people of Alabama. We have heard the regret often expressed, since the present session commenced, that we did not have a "few more like Boyd of Marshall." The people of Alabama will yet remember him.—Selma Times.

A Fearless Press the Safeguard of the Public.

[From the Montgomery Advertiser.]

Perhaps there is on the whole, no abler political editor in the United States than Col. John W. Forney, of the Philadelphia Press. He has been a conspicuous member of the so-called Republican party since 1860, and contributed immensely to its success.—The (Connecticut) Norwich Advertiser says that in reviewing the situation of public affairs, Col. Forney is disinclined at the sight! He finds that not only the good name of the Republic, but its safety is in danger! The Press asks whom are we to trust? Who is faithful? It then presents the following paragraph from the Press article:

We answer the questions frankly, by declaring that the American people now have no truer, more disinterested, or vigilant representative than they possess in the journalists of the land. The press is the most trustworthy exponent of popular rights, and in the hour of the country's shame the people turn with increased confidence to the journalist who defends their interests and denounces their wrongs. We candidly believe that if it were not for fear of the press, the corruption which develops itself in so many official places would be tenfold greater, and show itself with more effrontery. But the wholesome influence of the press is a barrier to official crime and political corruption, and as the people come to understand their representative they will increase their own safety by enlarging his powers.—When the American press becomes what it is fast becoming—the undoubted antagonist of wrong in every shape—the American Government will emerge from the foulness which now in part surrounds its legislative branch and become the stronger by reason of the stern lessons the governing classes are now learning. The people are now realizing that when the press heretofore pointed to political corruption, the truth was uttered; and, hereafter, when the press denounces such wrongs, the influence of the denunciation will be felt in the ballot-box. On the journalist, therefore, and not the legislator, will the people rely for a representative that is entirely honest.

Murrah for Sumter.

The Democrats Triumphant.

LIVINGSTON, Feb. 26.

The majority for Little, our candidate for Senator, is 375. We have beaten the opposition candidate, a company of United States cavalry, two United States Marshals, Oliver, the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Alabama House, who got leave of absence to go home, but came here, and a Congressman at Large, Sheets by name. Special to the Advertiser.

ECFAULA, Feb. 24.

Wells J. Bray, Esq., Democrat was elected Mayor to-day, over the strongest opposition candidate in the city, and by the largest majority that we have had for years. Our City Clerk, Marshall and Council, all elected. This is a glorious victory and rebuke to those who have so basely slandered our country, city and people.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.

The memorial of Sykes, stating his claim to a seat as Senator from Alabama will be presented to the Senate to-morrow. The extra session of the Senator will bring up the case of Sykes vs. Spencer soon after that body reassembles on March 4th. Sykes has a strong case, able counsel, and is sanguine of success. No one believes Spencer can get the seat on his present credentials.

WASHINGTON.

During the discussion over the Caldwell corruption and a proposition to postpone, Mr. Carpenter said the case of Louisiana did demand Legislation, and if not acted on at the present session, there was imminent danger of civil war and bloodshed in that State. In view therefore, of the very brief time left of the session, he thought it was best to let this Caldwell matter go over until after March 4th. The Caldwell case was postponed.

House: The Judiciary Committee report that they have no jurisdiction on Messrs. Colfax, Ames and Brook's connection with the Credit Mobilier, because the former was not vice-President, nor was Mr. Ames nor Mr. Brooks members of the present Congress. W. L. Cruggs, of Georgia, is appointed Minister resident, of the United States, to Columbia, at Bozalo.

The President was at the Capitol to-day, and had an interview with the Committee on Privileges and Elections. It is said he urged action to relieve him of responsibility for Louisiana. He made, it is said, no suggestions, simply urged Legislation.

Vice-President Colfax was robbed of $4,000 in Coupon bonds. PENNSYLVANIA.

The election for Mayor & Councilors for the town of Jacksonville for the year 1873, last Monday, resulted in the almost unanimous re-election of the old Council & Mayor. Some opposition was developed on the day of the election to two members of the old board, but the parties undertaking it were not of sufficient force to command more than twelve or fourteen votes, although they had a colored brother well drilled who carried tickets and "fought nobly" all day.

LINES

BY A DEREAVED MOTHER.

When the day glides away
And ushers darkness in,
'Tis then I kneel to pray
Security from sin.

I feel the need of grace,
To help me on the way
To that bright blissful place—
The realm of endless day.

Our Father does protect Us with the purest love,
And in mercy directs
His dearest from above.

But thus 'tis hard to think,
When sorely bereaved
Of our precious links,
'Tis natural to grieve.

I see the vacant chair,
It causes me to sigh—
Dear Maggie is not here,
The idol of my mother.

She was our household pet;
An unassuming child,
Her deeds we'll not forget;
So gentle, pure and mild.

Behold! affection's chain
Lies trailing in the dust!
But I will not complain,
In God I'll put my trust.

We these afflictions need;
They bring us nearer Him
Who on the cross died bleed,
To cleanse us all from sin.

Oh, robed in disguise,
Beings as to us sent;
He draws us to the skies,
By taking loved ones lent.

Three precious little boys
Have left this earth before,
And gone to share the joys
On an eternal shore.

I hope I'll meet them all
In perpetual bloom,
When I receive the call
To go beyond the tomb.

I feel the chastening rod,
And humbly try to say:
Thy will be done, Oh God!
I'll trust thee if thou stay.

THE LUNGS.

Consumption is the scourge of this country and slays its thousands of victims annually; yet how many people neglect a slight cough or cold, which the Hungarian Balm of Life will cure in a single night. This great remedy will effect a cure in cases of bronchitis, incipient consumption, or any form of bronchial or lung disease.

READ THIS EVIDENCE.

Near Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 23, 1870.

Messrs. Mansfield & Hildebrand.

GENTLEMEN: Your Hungarian Balm for the Lungs has won for itself a great reputation in this town. Many cases of lung diseases have been promptly cured by its use. Some of these were reported as having consumption, others with pains in the chest, breast and side, accompanied by night sweats, while others had all the symptoms of pneumonia. In all these cases your Hungarian Balm acted like a charm, giving in most of them immediate relief. The reasons which induce me to recommend your remedy in preference to all others are: First, it is prepared in a scientific manner by responsible parties; 2dly, it contains no opium or morphia, which drugs, while they palliate at the same time poison. The use of such remedies, cherry pectorals, &c., containing these opiates, disturbs the system and produces "opium eaters." 3dly, I recommend your Hungarian Balm in all cases of lung complaints, because of its known efficacy and value. The ingredients of which it is composed, are the extract of turmeric, diaphoretic, and other ingredients best known to the medical profession of the present day.

Yours respectfully,

T. B. GLIDON, M. D.

The ghost in the Newburyport school house, which so frightened the school and puzzled the wits of the good people living in the neighborhood, has been laid at last. A committee appointed to investigate the matter report that after a thorough examination of the alleged spiritual phenomena, they are satisfied that there are no mysterious facts to account for. It appears that a number of the boys in the school had undertaken the amusement of playing ghost for the purpose of scaring the girls, and succeeded beyond their anticipations, frightening the whole community so that scarcely any one within 20 miles of Newburyport has dared to be left alone in the dark since they began their pranks. Several of the young scapegraces made a full confession of their share in the business. The boy who personated the ghost which caused the people living in the neighborhood to be so much frightened, has been expelled from school on account of a sore toe the day he made his appearance in the entry, and had slipped out without his mother's knowledge to make his appearance in the school house again. He says that when the teacher came into the entry, finding that he could not escape by the door, he retreated up the attic stairs. The teacher followed and attempted to grasp him, but failing to do so, fell fainting with fright, when he slipped past her and ran home.—N. Y. Sun.

A faro-dealer in this city, about four years ago, was compelled to relinquish his profession by paralysis of his right forefinger. The nerve cut (in the spinal column) which supplied the joint had died from overwork, and the muscles of the finger gradually passed away through disuse—atrophied the doctors call it. The dead cell in the spinal marrow in some way, by contact or sympathy, destroyed the neighbor, which controlled the same finger on the left hand. The atrophy extended over both hands, up the arms, to the chest, shoulders and neck. At the present time there is not a muscle in these portions of the man's body. The arms hang useless and absolutely flaccid—mere skin and bone. The intercostal muscles are gone, and the man can make no respiratory movements requiring their action; the neck is asophagus, trachea and spinal column dead in skin, and that is all the process of the latter standing out as plainly as in a skeleton. The head unsupported, hangs down on the chest, as if it were merely tied on. By a movement of the joints the man can throw his head over so that it will fall resting on his shoulders and back, but otherwise than thus, mechanically, he cannot control its motion. What parts the disease will next attack is a question with the physicians at Bellevue, where the case was brought yesterday. Breathing is done wholly by the diaphragm, and must cease if that be attacked.—N. Y. World.

MINNESOTA.

GOOD NEWS FOR DREAD-EATERS.

Minneapolis, March 2.—Reliable advices from the interior along the railroad lines show that the quantity of wheat back in the farmers' hands is now greater than it has ever been before at this season. The warehouses and elevators of all the railroads are full of wheat waiting for transportation. Reports also say that large quantities still remain unthreshed. It is estimated there are from ten to twelve million bushels surplus in Minnesota to go forward.

Later of the Factory Horror—the Bodies of two more Girls Discovered.

Boston, March 2.—The remains of Lizette Harris and another girl, supposed to be Ann McDonough, were taken from the remains of the Harvard street fire Friday. The body of Miss Harris is not yet recovered. Firemen working as substitutes, whose names are unknown, are still missing. So far three firemen and three girls are dead. Two injured firemen are in a precarious condition. The others are doing well.

WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 3.—In the Legislative Appropriation bill, salaries were fixed as follows:

President, $25,000, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, $10,500, Justices Supreme Court, Cabinet officers, Vice President and Speaker, $10,000; Senators and members of Congress, including the present Congress, in lieu of mileage and all allowances except actual individual traveling expenses $7,500.

The Louisiana Question.

Grant is at least candid. His message to Congress is imperial in style and dictatorial in language. He demands that some solution of the Louisiana problem shall be made by Congress, but he does not promise to abstain from vetoing a bill which overturns the work of his henchman Durell, should such an one be passed. We rather like the tone of the message. He gives fair notice that he intends to crush the legitimate government of Louisiana and maintain the bastard horde in office. Louisianians, then, may make up their minds to four years of the rule of Kellogg, Durell—and that pitiful wretch Longstreet. They must submit to it unless, indeed, Kellogg and his gang can either be bought up to retire, or forced to take a never ending bath at the gloomy bottom of the turbid Mississippi.

It is a more matter of time, after all this heaping outrage. Some day the South, weary of bending the knee, will rise erect. Some day Southern men will resume their manhood and reassert it. Louisiana bound hand and foot by Grant and his bayonets, or the playing of a Congress, is none the less pitiable a spectacle. For in fact, neither Congress nor President can interfere without doing violence to every right possessed by her people. Congress cannot make and unmake a State; neither can the President. The attempt at either is usurpation.

We deprecate violence as much as any man, but there are times when violence is only the misnomer of decision. If Mr. McEnery has the pluck it will not take him twenty-four hours to be in complete possession of the office to which he was rightfully elected. The people are at his back, and the men of New Orleans know how to act when ordered by legal authority.—Atlanta Herald.

Republican

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MARCH 15th, 1873.

The people raise but one cry to the Legislature—Adjourn! Adjourn!

The "handsomest man in the Legislature" is also the happiest.

Hon. John H. Caldwell has returned from Washington, after a ten day's stay in that city.

Grant signs for a Universal Republic. That other poet, Tennyson, had a dream something similar.

Hon. R. K. Boyd is necessarily absent from the House, on account of sickness in his family. He can be ill spared.

The proceedings of the Legislature have been unusually uninteresting this week and we do not consume space in printing them.

We are not to have the Modoc Indians, after all. They go to Angel Island. Clark, (e b) McAfee, (s) and Hunter are inconsolable.

After the defeat of the Civil Rights bill, the negroes became fearfully exasperated at their white Radical friends, (so-called) and interrupted the proceedings repeatedly by motions to adjourn sine die.

Col. Cooper has introduced a bill to restrict the sale of spirituous liquors, either at wholesale or retail, to the incorporated cities and towns of the State. If liquor were to be sold at all, we do not see why people in the country should not be allowed to traffic in it the same as people living in towns.

Nich McAfee, (Parsons') boot jack, is said to have made 2-40 time out of the hall of the House when it came to a vote on the Civil Rights bill. And yet Nichols has remarked in debate on the capitol-whiskey bill, the other day, that "the member from Talladega dare do anything that his conscience approves."

Ben Butler in a recent speech in Congress, in defence of Oakes Ames, the Credit Mobilier rascal, vauntingly declared that he was not a newspaper-made man, but a God-made man. The newspapers, with one accord, thanked Benjamin for relieving them of the responsibility; but the best thing on the subject was said when the Opeika Observer remarked that Ben had at last settled a long disputed theological question, viz: "Whether God was or was not the author of original sin."

Sawyer, (old Grizzly,) of the Rome Courier, is writing a short story, entitled "Bob DeShazer." He has now reached the 666th chapter, and his hero, Robert, has just attained the fighting age. It would be rash in us to make any positive predictions, but as the Courier is a tri-weekly, we may reasonably hope to know the end of that sanguinary young man somewhere about the time Grant's Universal Republic comes along. In event Sawyer should die of old age, in the meantime, he has made arrangements with his Executors to continue the story.

It affords us great pleasure to announce to our colored brethren that the Civil Rights Bill, with its amendments, has been defeated in the House, where it originated, and that its defeat was brought about by the cowardly action of their so-called friends, the white Radicals in the Legislature, who did not have the courage to stand up and vote for their principles and in fulfillment of their promises to the black man during the late and previous elections. All but seven of the white Radicals voted against the bill or dodged a vote by absenting themselves. Parsons refused to run, and plunked in a vote against it square out. Alex White was not so courageous, and sneaked out of his seat to avoid a vote. Just before the vote was declared, he said:

This has been a year of great mortality among Congressmen. What with the Credit Mobilier and the salary "raise," very few members of the old Forty-second Congress, not already re-elected, will ever go to Congress again. The Credit Mobilier was confined entirely to Members from the Northern States and embraced mostly Radicals. The Radical party, the salary "raise" had its advocates in both parties, North and South, and embraced all men in Congress whose aversion to disunion and secession was too much for their patriotism or discretion. The mere act of raising the confessedly inadequate salaries of Congressmen was nothing in itself, had it applied to future Congresses alone. It was the ineffable meanness and greediness that prompted them to apply the law to the Congress just then expiring, by which each member received some five thousand dollars more than he bargained for when elected, that has determined the people to label each member who voted for it, "unfaithful servant."

We are pleased to say that our honored and honorable Representative in that Congress, P. M. Dox, recorded his vote against it. It is said Mr. Handley, of the Third District, also voted against the measure, although he is reported in the Montgomery Advertiser as being absent. It was to be expected that Senator Goldthwaite and Mr. Sloss, the gentleman who presumably represents the Democracy of the Sixth District, would do so. But they did; and Sloss not only voted, but worked for the passage of the bill.

This salary raising business came near defeating Henry Clay once, in Kentucky, when he was in the height of his popularity. The storm that would shake Henry Clay, would blow smaller fry into the middle of the Atlantic. There has been great mortality among Congressmen this year. The Massachusetts Radicals have been making a big fight over the proposition to rescind the resolutions of the Massachusetts Legislature reflecting on Senator Sumner for his efforts in the U. S. Senate to have the record of all victories over the South blotted from the army flags. The "soldier" element in Massachusetts are in favor of sticking to the resolutions of censure. Well, if we may be permitted a word, we say let both the record and resolutions of censure stick. Neither are very creditable to the "soldier element" of Massachusetts. The South is not ashamed of the record. The scant number of victories that can be legitimately claimed over the Southern soldiery by the "soldier element" of Massachusetts, Europe and the remainder of the civilized world, is more than counterbalanced by the innumerable number of complete and glorious victories won by Southern valor from the beginning to the close of the war. History records the number of battles fought. Let the soldier element take a list of them and write "victory" opposite each one that they can conscientiously claim as having been won by Federal arms, and the list will be most conspicuous for the omission of that word. The South is not ashamed of the record. All candid minds are compelled to confess that had it been left to the "soldier element" of Massachusetts and other of the "loyal" States to fight the battles of the Union, without a resort to Europe for recruits, the South would have won her independence as easily as she won the battle of Bull Run. As it is, it is a notorious fact, that with all their imported soldiery, the Southern troops whipped them out of their boots whenever they encountered them on a fair field and in numbers not more than three to one. In one campaign, Gen. Lee's Army killed and wounded more of them than Gen. Lee's Army numbered. At this rate, had the armies of both sides been equally matched in point of numbers, it would have taken just about three campaigns to have put every U. S. soldier in the service hors du combat.

By all means let the record be preserved, if it furnishes any gratification to the "soldier element" of the North. Sumner is moved by no good feeling to the South, when he wishes to wipe out the record. He sees that it is no credit to his section, and that reason he would have the resolutions censuring him remain. By this arrangement the "soldier element" of Massachusetts will be enabled to appear in a light both pusillanimous and foolish—pusillanimous from the record, and foolish for pursuing the man who would obliterate that record. All of which affords a gratifying spectacle for the contemplation of "unrepentant rebels."

SCUDDED DEATH.—Last Monday we are startled and pained to learn of the sudden death of Wm. Green Esq., one of our oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of our country. On Monday morning he arose early and, as was his custom, went to his stables, in company with a little negro boy, to feed his stock. When he reached the stables, he suddenly fell down dead without speaking a word, although that morning he was apparently in his usual health. Heart disease or apoplexy is supposed to have carried him off. He was 76 years old, and was one of the earliest settlers of the county, having come here in 1833 or 1834. Upright in all his dealings with his fellow-men of a kindly and genial nature; possessing a deep and genuine patriotism, he was a man universally respected—a man that Calhoun county can ill spare.

We deeply sympathize with his bereaved wife and afflicted family. Since the Radical House defeated the Civil Rights Bill, the Democratic Senators (weak-kneed) are trying to pass one.

Particulars of the Canister Butchery in New Orleans.

The President Backs His Pets with Bayonets.

From the O. Pickayune, 7th. At an early hour last night it was rumored that an attack would be made by the McGurny police and militia on some of the police stations, and the appearance of large bodies of men at intervals on the streets gave color to the rumor, and then it was said that the police and militia were congregating at the sugar house, and there was some little excitement, which was increased at about 9 o'clock by the appearance on Camp street of a squad of men armed with muskets and followed by a small band with revolvers conspicuously displayed, who went across Canal street into Chartres and on down.

The body was joined by a number of men, who, when some distance down Chartres street, stopped at the gun store of J. Gilfoin and J. E. Lee, and forced the doors, entered and ransacked the place, taking out everything in the shape of pistol or gun, but found very little ammunition. They then marched on down and joined the main detachment which had halted just this side of St. Peter street, and at that point a large crowd, some under the command of leaders and officers, but quite a number detached, and most of them armed.

On reaching here it was learned that an attack had already been made on the Third, second and fourth, and at a late hour last night, or rather an early hour this morning, everything in the vicinity was quiet.

THE FIRST ATTACK.

Two detachments of men, numbering probably fifty or seventy-five together, but few possessing any arms, except a revolver, marched by the station, and undisturbed entered the middle gate of the Jackson Square, facing on Chartres st. They fired around the corner, and the first detachment, the better armed of the two, getting near the fence, their left resting on St. Peter street, and their right towards St. Ann, the other detachment was fired in behind them, with their front towards the river, the right resting on St. Peter and the left on St. Ann.

After remaining in this position a few moments the foremost detachment was ordered to fire, which they did, and the Metropolitan militia replied. The position was exposed, and the men were drawn off in a rather disorderly condition behind the protecting walls of the Cathedral, and from here some of the men in front fired into a side window of the station. The order to fire was given, and the commander-in-chief of the force then stepped forward and demanded the surrender of the station, but was answered by several shots, one of which grazed his right shoulder, as he was just leaving, making a rent in his coat.

After the firing had ceased it was found that one man was wounded in the leg. In a short time the body of men had been increased by the arrival of other detachments to about two hundred, and a half of which were armed with muskets, shot guns and Winchester rifles.

A number of outsiders were also on the ground, and while the men of the militia and police were being shot, they broke into the gun store of P. Baum, situated on Chartres street, near St. Peter, and in a few moments the place was gutted.

The men were placed in different positions, and one detachment was stationed, or it may be took up their position at the corner of Toulouse and Chartres streets.

Things remained in this condition for some time, an occasional discharge of a fire arm being heard, but no breach of the peace. A guard of Marines was placed in charge of the station house, where he is temporarily confined. The name of the family in the tragedy occurred is Montevet, not Huntress.

Mr. Huntress is a New Englander and an industrious and much respected fisherman. Mrs. Montevet's condition is critical. The murdered woman were of irreproachable character and remarkable for personal beauty.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis, March 7.—A widow lady, Mrs. Lutton, and her adopted daughter, twelve years old, were found dead in bed, at their home in Mattoon; Illinois yesterday morning, with their throats cut from ear to ear. A compass knife was sticking in the wound in Mrs. Lutton's throat, and her right hand grasping its handle. The bodies lay in a decomposed position, evidently having been arranged after death, and nicely covered with bed clothes. A son of Mrs. Lutton has been arrested on suspicion of having committed the murder.

DIED.—At Whistler, near Mobile, of a pulmonary affection, on Monday the 12th March, 1873, in the 29th year of his age, WILLIAM S., son of William L. Parson, of Jacksonville, Ala., leaving a wife and three children to feel the sorrow of this early and sad bereavement. The deceased spent the greater part of his early youth in Jacksonville, an uncommonly quiet and exemplary boy, loved and respected by all. He was an acceptable member of the Masonic and the O. F. Fraternity, and died in the faith and communion of the Catholic church, and is now reaping the reward, we hope, of a quiet christian life.

THE FIGHT WAS STILL PROGRESSING, WHEN GEN. SMITH OF THE UNITED STATES TROOPS

appeared and commanded Col. Eugene Waggoner, in the name of the United States, to order the men to disperse. The fact that the battle was off, owing to the appearance of the troops, soon became known, and the firing in a very short time dropped off, reopening now and then, and at last ceasing altogether.

A loud cheer then arose from the ranks of the metropolitans.

The McGurny militia and police had gathered about to location, at the rate hereinafter established; and that said assessment shall hereafter commence on the 15th day of March, and shall be completed on or by the 1st day of April of each year, and that all the property so assessed, shall be assessed to the party assessed, and it on the 1st day of January of that year, or if the owner is unknown the assessment shall show the same; and further, all property so assessed shall be subject to the payment of taxes due thereon.

And he further ordained, That one half of said taxes when assessed shall become due and payable immediately after the same is assessed; and the Marshal shall be and is hereby required to proceed to levy upon and sell all property upon which taxes are due and not paid on or by the 1st day of May of each year; and that the balance of said taxes so assessed shall become due and payable on or before the 1st day of September of each year, when the same if unpaid shall be considered as taxes due and not paid on which it is assessed.

provided, the Marshal shall give notice as required by law of all sales which he may have to make, the cost of which shall be paid by the delinquent taxpayer.

By TELEGRAPH.

New York, March 8.

Allen J. Jones, clerk of the Southern Bank of Georgia, at Savannah came to this city with fraudulent drafts for $22,500 which were endorsed by Kissen & Co. He drew money from the Park Bank of this city, with which the Southern Bank of Georgia are depositors. The fraud was discovered today, but Jones had absconded.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, March 7.—A frightful scene occurred here this morning, caused by the useless use of cartridges. A colored woman, employed at the boarding house of Mrs. Duval, poured coal oil into the stove to make the fire burn; instantly the coal exploded. The unfortunate woman, enveloped in flames, rushed into the street literally a pillar of fire, and the flames reaching her head. Her screams were heard for several squares. In a short time several hundred persons were attracted to the spot. Several gentlemen threw overcoats around her, attempting to quench the flames, which was accomplished until every particle of clothing, except a small handkerchief about her waist, had been consumed, the entire body being horribly roasted. Her injuries are necessarily fatal.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PORTSMOUTH, March 7.—Lewis Wagner the late of Shrewsbury was arrested in Boston last night, and is expected here on the noon train. There are excited crowds here waiting for him, and the Mayor has procured a squad of Marines from the Navy yard to guard him. The details of his capture are most horrible. The woman who escaped was badly frozen.

PORTSMOUTH, March 7.—A large crowd of indignant citizens were gathered on the arrival of Wagner, the alleged murderer, but death was no breach of the peace. A guard of Marines was placed in charge of the station house, where he is temporarily confined. The name of the family in the tragedy occurred is Montevet, not Huntress.

POETRY.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
The Hero of Twenty Years Ago.

By ARK WILSON.
Fond fancy brings to dreaming eyes
A picture sweet and clear—
And, as I gaze, new beauties rise,
And many an image dear.
The not of heavy eyelids gray,
Nor haughty on the down,
Nor where the lingering moonbeams play
O'er ancient tower or town—
But sleeping now in summer's light
And now in winter's snow,
She brings the home again to-night
Of twenty years ago.

Sweet spot thou hadst no frowning walls,
No battlement no mere;
But in thy hospitable halls
What gladness light and cheer?
How innocent the mirth and jest,
How fondly beamed each eye,
How kindly welcomed was the guest
Of low estate or high!
Oh happy Earth, if in thy round
All night such welcome know
As in that home each pilgrim found
Of twenty years ago.

And where are they? The happy band
Who gathered round their sire,
And prayed for tale of foreign land
Beside the evening fire?
The laughing girl, the bright-eyed boy,
The youth, the maid were there;
The tottering infant spread his toys
Beside his mother's chair.
But now how drear each well-known room,
When fades the sunset glow!
For but one lamp lights up the home
Of twenty years ago.

One who had dwelt for years afar
Found in thy shades a grave—
Some wanderer where the evening star
Sinks in the western wave—Scattered, perchance for aye are they Once gathered 'neath thy roof;
For duty calls, and they obey
Her high but stern behest.
Yet from each heart fond prayers will rise
When fancy does but show
That pictured home to dreaming eyes
Of twenty years ago.

An Empty Chair.
The hearth is lonely, and I sit and watch
The embers fall;
The firelight on the curtain glows, and flickers
On the wall;
The old clock ticks, the gray cat purrs,
Yet what a change is there!
I feel it, as I sit and gaze upon—an Empty chair!

Her portrait hangs upon the wall, and in The window stands
The flowering myrtle that each day she Nursed with kindly hands;
Her knitting, as she left it, lies in her Household store;
The needle that her wrinkled hands shapply, alas! no more.

I see her now, with smooth, calm brow,
With hand and silver hair,
My mother dear, of spirit sweet, who Taught her child to bear
With calm mind the thorns of life, or Seize its passing rose,
With gratitude to him from whom each Earthly blessing flows.

Full, full of years, in ripe old age, the Last dread summons came;
All blessings on her holy life, and on
Her honored name.
Ahl may her sorrowing daughter take
From her empty seat
To fight life's battles to the end, and win
Her crown at length.

There are Here.
FROM MEINE.
Where shall I go the wanderer jaded
In the grave at last recline?
In the South by palm-tree shaded?
Under lindens by the Rhine?

Shall I, in some desert, sterile,
Be outwitted by foreign hands?
Shall I sleep beyond life's portal,
By some sea-coast, in the sands?

Well, God's heaven will shine as brightly
There as here, around my bed,
And the stars, for death-hoops, nightly
Shall be hung above my head.

A Chicago paper says the women of Utah have recently altered the orthography of their creed. They now spell it Mormon instead of Mormon.

If some of our "nice young men" could be purchased at their public value and then sold at their own estimate, the profits of the transaction would pay the losses by the Boston fire, and perhaps the National debt.

A few days since a nicely person applied to a wealthy citizen for help, and received the sum of five cents. The giver remarked as he handed over the pittance, "Take it, you are welcome, my eyes are always open to the calls of the distressed." "That may be," remarked the recipient, "but never before in my life have I seen so small an offering for such large ears."

A MOTHER'S LOVE.—Lamarine gives this illustration: "In some spring freshet, a river widely washed its shores and rent away a launch whereon a bird had built a cottage for her summer home.
Down the white and whirling stream drifted the green branch, with its wicker cup of unfiled song and fluttering feathers. It went the mother bird. Unheeding the roaring river, on she went, her eyes of agony and fear peering the passages in the storm. How like the love of an old-fashioned mother, who followed the child she had plucked from her heart all over the world. Swept away by passion that child might be, it mattered not, though he was leaving away with him the fragrance of the shattered roof-tree, yet that mother was with him, a Ruth through all his life, and a Rachel at his death."

How THEY SETTLE DOCTOR'S BILLS
IN TEXAS.—The Courier-Journal says that out in Texas recently a doctor rode 50 miles to attend a patient. After he had cured the patient he presented a bill for $50, and proceeded to complete his preparations for the journey back to the post, thinking no more about the matter. As he was about to mount, the patient's husband put in an appearance, with his rusty rifle in hand. Doctor," said he, "I reckon we'd better settle this here matter now," he then took him aside and said, "You want agoin' off with out a settlement was you? I don't want to owe no man nothin', no matter how he might be. There is an X which I reckon is about the square thing.
Now, if you ain't satisfied, just git yer weepon and come round the hill thar, so's the old woman won't git riled up, and I kinder reckon we'll settle it. I don't want no man to go away from my house dissatisfied, specially you, Doc."

What Does This Mean?

The Advertiser and Mail of the 7th says: "After declaring that there is 'neither bottom nor strength' to the movement to make a new State out of East Tennessee and certain border counties in North Carolina, the Nashville Banner mentions the receipt of private information to the effect that members of the Alabama legislature are quietly canvassing among themselves the propriety of selling Tennessee all that part of Alabama lying north of the Tennessee river and adding a portion of Florida, including the harbor of Pensacola, to Alabama. This is news to our people here, both in and out of the legislature. Perhaps Gov. Lewis' recent message reviving the West Florida annexation scheme may now be accounted for."

Slander.—Yes, pass it along whether you believe it or not. The one-sided whisper against the character of a virtuous female or an honorable man, you don't believe, but you use your influence to bear it upon false report and pass it into the current. Strange creatures are women. How many reputations are lost by surmise. How many hearts have been bled by whispers.
How many individuals have been shunned by a gentle, mysterious hint. How chaste bosoms have been wrung with grief by a single nod. How many graves have been dug by false reports. Yet you will keep it above by a wag of your tongue, when you might sink it forever. Destroy the passion for telling. Liss not a word that will injure the character of another, and as far as you are concerned, the slander will die.

PAIN-KILLER

The remedies ever discovered for the relief of pain, have been found to be either temporary or permanent. The cure is speedy and permanent in the most inveterate cases. This is no humbug, but a grand, noble discovery, and a life-saver containing no poison to inflame, paralyze or drive the inflammation upon an internal organ. Its efficiency is truly wonderful.
Relief is instantaneous. It is designed to banish pain and agony, by its direct action on the face of the earth.

Printing Five Million Dollars—A

True Story of the Late Confederacy.

The Story I am going to relate occurred in 1861. It owes its origin to the great war that then took place, and like many other interesting episodes, has never been published. The facts were learned several years ago, narrated by persons then residing in Richmond, and although in minor details there may be slight inaccuracies, in the main the story is true.

Shortly after the Cotton States troops commenced their influx into

Virginia, a treasury department was established at Richmond. At that time the currency, outside of gold and silver, consisted of State and stock banks, which was found insufficiently to supply the demand of the accumulating armies of nea-ly 400,000 men. Richmond being headquarters of the rising Confederacy, it was selected by the leading men of the rebellion as the most suitable place for the issuance of their national currency.

In the treasury department there was employed a man by the name of Elam, a compositor. He was a shrewd and tricky fellow, as the sequel will amply prove.

After reflecting upon the great opportunity he had of becoming a millionaire, he determined to strike off a large amount of this money.

No precautionary measures were taken in regard to this establishment, as all seemed to be engrossed in the furthering of Southern independence. But while Elam was patriotic in the cause, he had an eye also to business. So one night he concluded that the opportune moment was at hand for carrying out his design. Walking along the street, he met and accosted a man who went by the name of "Napoleon," divulging the object in view and offering an equal partnership in the great scheme he had concocted. His assistant was a foreigner, a native of Poland, and was nick-named "Napoleon" from a facial resemblance to the picture of the then Emperor of the French.

Republican

JACKSONVILLE, ALABAMA.

SATURDAY, MARCH 22nd, 1873.

The Rome Courier thus "goes for" the faithful Congressmen from Georgia who voted for the back salary steal.

"A grander swindle, a more unblushing robbery was never before perpetrated upon the Treasury than when the Congress voted itself back pay on the 'increased salary' and what makes it 'mortifying to us and to our people, is the fact that our immediate representative, Gen. P. M. B. Young, a man whom we had esteemed as the best 'ward of the South, a knight errant, 'pater et amicus populi,' Gen. Dubois, and Col. W. H. Price were among the 'ignoble crew who stooped to the dishonor.'"

"It is with sorrow that we have to make this announcement, and a real 'pain that we have to hold up the names of our once trusted representatives to the scorn of our outraged people."

The Courier is severe on these men; but no more so than they deserve. Being Democrats only heightens the grade of their offence. Never before in the history of the two parties, has the Democratic party had it in its power to present to the country a contrast between the two so strikingly and powerfully in its favor. Had the Radical party alone been left to carry through this infamy, and were the Democracy able to hold up clean hands before the country, as it could do for this thing, it would be no difficult task for it to carry the next Presidential election. But the accused lore of gold broke down the barrier between the parties, and Democrats and Radicals alike stuffed their pockets full of the people's money, forgetting their honor, forgetting their pilgred constituency, forgetting their country. The million or more of money they have stolen is nothing. The Democratic party could well afford to give each member a cent for it, ten times the amount he fished to be able to wipe out the record. It is the fact that this infamous monster of corruption and infidelity to public trusts that has so long marked the Radical party, has crossed the line and invaded the ranks of the Democracy, that is the cause of most public concern. The Radical party has already filled its cup of iniquity and brought the country to the verge of ruin. The Democracy once given over to corruption, what hope of the country is there left? Then will we have that rotten Republic, so vividly pictured by Judge Black, as worse than any Despotism on earth. But it has not come to this quite yet. As the Philadelphia Age remarks: "The tree is not all rotten. The rottenness is confined to the top branches—the men in high places—as yet. The roots of the tree and trunk—the people—are sound still." But how long will it be before the whole tree will die, unless the diseased branches are lopped off and the tree restored to health? Not long.—Indeed the body has already been touched, if we may infer anything from the public reprobation of the Congress, the Congressional Dribber, and Colfax, the unmarked hypocrite and convicted liar, received at the hands of their friends and constituents upon their return from the Forty-Second Congress. The State Legislatures are almost without exception, rotten to the heart. Bribery of members to vote for huge Railroad monopolies, mark the Legislatures of the North. The pocketing of fees to vote corrupt resolutions into the United States Senate is peculiar to members of the Western Legislature. Rampant robbery of the people has characterized the purely Radical Legislatures in the South, while an alarming conservatism, cowardice and a servility to the power at Washington has distinguished the more even mixed Legislatures, such as we have at Montgomery.

The whole head is sick. The President may not steal; but he accepts gifts, and is a heartless despot. Heads of Departments may not steal, but they compound felonies with rich rogues who do steal. The Supreme Court Judges may be honest; but they lack the manhood and courage to promulgate decisions likely to prove distasteful to other co-ordinate branches of the Government. In its servility the Court has abdicated its functions, and no longer sacredly guards the Constitution. Congress does steal, and refuses to ensure bribed members and convicted liars who claim seats in it. Most of the Legislatures in which the Radical element predominates are corrupt beyond estimate. In our own State, the Legislature of which is respectable as compared with some, we behold the Speaker of the House openly confess in debate that he signed a bill authorizing the issue of Two Million Dollars in Bonds that he knew was not passed by the required constitutional majority. We see that bill filed in the office of the Secretary of State, signed by the Speaker of the House and President of the Senate, and approved by the Governor, who is sworn to uphold the Constitution. We hear these men confess their crime and declare the act void from the beginning. We hear them declare that none of the bonds shall be put upon the market, and ask for other bonds at the hands of the present Attorney-General's Legislature. We see the too credulous Democrats fall into the trap and vote for the issue of a Million and a half Dollars in Bonds. And then what do we see? Why no sooner is this amount authorized to be issued, than Gov. Lewis puts the Two Million of Bogus Bonds on the market, and his "pal" in New York, Henry Clews, is ordered to "shove" a Million of the "queer" forthwith, if we may believe the New York Sun. When Mr. Boyd wishes to introduce a resolution of enquiry touching this charge of the Sun, the Radical House refuses to suspend the rules to allow him to do so, which lends plausibility to the charge. In the House we behold a few brave spirits standing up for the people, but they are voted violent, and more conservative and more cowardly men belonging to the Democratic party prevail in the councils of the party. In the Senate it is worse. There we find more weak-kneed conservatism among Democrats than we supposed to exist in the entire party in the State. Men who profess that honored name, have voted in the Senate to thrust upon the people of the State a measure that even White and Parsons could not stomach; and some of them are charged by the Selma Times with having made speeches on the Civil Rights Bill that called forth warmest encomiums from the Radicals—speeches that would have astounded and mortified their constituents beyond measure. While the State is almost in the throes of financial death, we see Senators voting for a removal of the Capital to a remote part of the State, (Mobile) and deliberately throwing away a magnificent property in Montgomery, (the Capitol grounds and buildings, which revert to the heirs of the original donors, in case of removal), as lightly as if the State were rich beyond comparison; and this without one thought of the wishes of their constituency in the matter. After abusing a Radical Senate for holding over four years, we see them propose only to follow the example of that Radical Senate. Turn where you will, and corruption, indifference to public interests and a lofty disregard of the people mark the great mass of office-holders. This must be stopped, or the country is gone. Public men must learn that the people are yet wasters. Public men must learn that high position gives them no immunity to steal and play tyrant in this country. To bring about this, the people ought to take a more immediate interest in public concerns. The Congressional Districts of the men who voted for the back salary steal ought to request them to return and let honest men take their places. The old-fashioned indignation meeting ought to come in vogue again. Whenever a Representative or Senator in the Legislature grows negligent of his constituents or disavours their wishes in the smallest matter, he ought to be requested to return home forthwith. The public press must be more independent; and spot a recalcitrant or a drone or a weakling wherever found in public life, in whatever party found. The language of the whole country—press, pulpit and people—should be the language of the poet, so aptly quoted in connection with the late murder of Louisiana: "God give us men! a time like this demands strong minds, great heart's true faith and ready hands; Men whom the lust of office does not kill; Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; Men who have honor: men who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demagogue And damn his treacherous flatterers without winking; Tall men, sun-crowded, who live above the public duty, and in private thinking; For, while the rabble in their thumbs worn crowns, Their large professions and their little deeds—Mingle in selfish strife! Freedom wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps."

Our faithful Representative, Capt. Renfro, has introduced a bill, which has passed the House, requiring the Secretary of State to furnish this country with a Tract Book. It will doubtless pass the Senate. The County Court bill has been referred to the Judiciary Committee in the Senate. When it comes up again, Col. Cooper will doubtless put it through. This bill was introduced by Capt. R. and has already passed the House.

We have got to hear the first man in Calhoun County say that he favors the removal of the Capital from Montgomery. On the contrary all strongly oppose it. Our representatives, Messrs. Cooper and Renfro, are respectfully requested to oppose it.

All the Radicals in the House opposed the bill to keep the school funds in the counties. All the Democrats favored it.

To the People of Alabama.

BY CANDID SCALAWAG.

To these matters I now invoke the solicitude of your earnest anxiety.—Gov. Lewis's Message, February 1, 1873.

When we were in power ten long years ago, Your money we used to satisfy; What you're left we now want; and to this I invoke The solicitude of your earnest anxiety. In the Court-house, you know, that hall of Justice and we schemed with subtlety. To bend—double tax you; and to this I entreat The solicitude of your earnest anxiety. To preach the poor Black into feeling he's White. Our Miller-Pursons think in their piety Will grind and crush you; and to this I expect The solicitude of your earnest anxiety. We made a Legislature of men badly beat. What need'd we the scorn of society, So we held the purse strings; and to this I invite The solicitude of your earnest anxiety. Now, men of Alabama, in honesty—truth, Old-fashioned, alike, no variety—We're the Clews to your pockets, and to this I beseech The solicitude of your earnest anxiety.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., March 15, 1873.

The Insane Asylum Bill which passed the House yesterday, introduced by Mr. Brown of Tuscaloosa, provides that the Governor shall provide means to promptly pay the warrants on the bill of institution by the issue of bonds, after the failure to raise funds in any other way. The bill was amended by making similar provisions as to the deaf dumb and blind asylum at Talladega.

THE FLORIDA ANNESTATION SCHEME.

This pet measure of certain members of the General Assembly, was again brought before the House in the shape of a joint resolution, for the appointment of a Commission, consisting of a certain number of members of the House and Senate, to confer with the Florida commissioners, and also appropriate several thousand dollars to pay the expenses of the Commission. The State is already loaded down with debt, and the expense, even of the Commission is unnecessary, without any consideration of the question of the immense fund necessary to effect a purchase.

ADJOURNMENT.

Another resolution proposing to adjourn sine die on the 24th, met the fate of its predecessor, and was referred to the Committee on Ways and Means. It is now evident that the General Assembly of Alabama, already longer in session than ever before will continue here until the 1st of April, if not later in the Spring. The failure to transact the important business of the State up to this time.

SELMA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A bill to change the name of the "Chamber of Commerce of Selma" to "Board of Trade," met with decided opposition from the colored troops. Walker, of Dallas, one of the most troublesome negroes in the House, moved to lay the bill on the table. Mr. Cochran took an active part in securing the passage of the bill, but as this could not be done without a suspension of the rules, it was referred to the Committee on Local Legislation.

THE PENITENTIARY BILL.

The case of the convicts of Alabama has become a matter of very great concern to the Legislature. The bill authorizing the purchase by the Governor of a farm and nupties, to be worked by the convicts, with certain provisions as to the way the funds arising from the sale of the products of the labor of the convicts are to be used, and the bill is claimed to be a measure to protect the State from the pestilence of the convict. The bill was brought up again to-day. The manner of the treatment of these convicts, is certainly outrageous, and shocks the better feelings humanity. The position of the whole State has been summed in the discussion of a question of order, and a Bill relative to the School Laws. Except a joint memorial, asking Congress to appropriate

THE MILITARY CALLED UPON.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 14, 1873.

The Georgia House of Representatives, created by a special committee to which had been referred a resolution looking towards a removal of the Capital, reported a bill for the removal thereof from Montgomery to Milledgeville. The report was concurred in. The bill provided that if the city of Milledgeville should build a capitol building, equal in every respect to the present building, then when completed the Governor shall by proclamation, declare that place the Capital of Alabama.

This proposition is of course ridiculous, and the Senate of Alabama, it is certainly dis-regarded the wishes of the people of the State. If they are in fact, they have consumed several hours of valuable time for which the people are paying.

The removal to a distant part of the State, compelling the people throughout Alabama, to go hundreds of miles to Mobile to visit their capital, for the usual purpose of transacting business, with the opposition throughout Alabama that it so richly deserves.

Senators need not attempt to say they are in jest, in explaining their action. For it is evidently their intention and wish, that the House should pass the bill, although Senators are elected, or claim to be elected for four years, the people will hold them strictly accountable for their action. The people of Montgomery rallied to the aid of Democratic members of the Capitol Legislature, and the people of the city have entertained them in their private families, and their action now smacks of ingratitude. Let the press and the people speak out on this question. The bill will certainly pass the Senate.

From the Capital.

[Special Correspondence Selma Times.]

MONTGOMERY, March 18, 1873.

THE TIMBERLARK CASE.

Mr. McAffee, from special committee to inquire into the case of the Timberlark, reported a bill for the relief of Ananda Holmes, who had been relieved that the matter had been carefully considered, and recommended that the bill pass.

Amelia Holmes and others, are sureties to bond of the Mayor, and are charged, has embezzled certain moneys while he was tax-collector, of Dallas county, and ask to be relieved from all liabilities as sureties.

THE SCHOOL FUNDS IN THE COUNTIES.

The bill heretofore introduced by Mr. Taylor, authorizing the various counties to retain a proportionate share of the public school funds, was taken up.

Mr. Taylor of Lauderdale, in an able manner advocated the passage of the bill. He said the people in the country were more interested in these school funds than in the legislative questions that agitate the Legislature. Why is it the school moneys are not returned to the school? It is because the funds are kept separate in the Treasury, and has been kept in the common fund. This fund has been squandered, gone to pay the interest of the holders of bonds in the North. The schools are stopped, and because the money is not returned into the Treasury, but these funds have been diverted in another direction. The people cheerfully pay poll tax, hoping to have it returned to them in broad cast upon the waters in educating their children; but instead of this, the funds are kept in the Treasury. It seems that the best place is to keep these funds in the county Treasuries, and under the more direct supervision of the people.

FRUITING AWAY TIME.

The time of the House was consumed yesterday in the discussion of a measure to adjournment in the discussion of the reconsideration of a vote concerning the payment of the witness brought before a Committee of the last General Assembly, investigating the officers of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad.

THE MILITARY CALLED UPON.

SAVANNAH, GA., March 14, 1873.

The Georgia House of Representatives, created by a special committee to which had been referred a resolution looking towards a removal of the Capital, reported a bill for the removal thereof from Montgomery to Milledgeville. The report was concurred in. The bill provided that if the city of Milledgeville should build a capitol building, equal in every respect to the present building, then when completed the Governor shall by proclamation, declare that place the Capital of Alabama.

This proposition is of course ridiculous, and the Senate of Alabama, it is certainly dis-regarded the wishes of the people of the State. If they are in fact, they have consumed several hours of valuable time for which the people are paying.

The removal to a distant part of the State, compelling the people throughout Alabama, to go hundreds of miles to Mobile to visit their capital, for the usual purpose of transacting business, with the opposition throughout Alabama that it so richly deserves.

Senators need not attempt to say they are in jest, in explaining their action. For it is evidently their intention and wish, that the House should pass the bill, although Senators are elected, or claim to be elected for four years, the people will hold them strictly accountable for their action. The people of Montgomery rallied to the aid of Democratic members of the Capitol Legislature, and the people of the city have entertained them in their private families, and their action now smacks of ingratitude. Let the press and the people speak out on this question. The bill will certainly pass the Senate.

DR. HUSTON EXPELLED.

The Conference Committee Decried the Pastor Guilty of Immorality and Gross Licentiousness, and Expelled Him.

Baltimore, March 14, 1873.

The case of Rev. Dr. D. Huston, charged with gross immorality and licentiousness, which has excited such deep interest in this community and the entire Methodist Episcopal Church South for the last year or more, was concluded this morning in the session of the Baltimore annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Shortly after the meeting of the Conference this morning, Bishop Duggett, presiding, notified the committee in the case of Rev. Dr. Huston were ready to report.

The Chairman, Rev. Dr. Register, responded that they were, and handed the following to the Secretary, which was then read:

The committee to whom the case of the Rev. Dr. D. Huston, D. D., was referred, beg leave to report that the charge of immorality is unanimously sustained, and that Dr. Huston has been expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Bishop Duggett asked if any representative of Dr. Huston appeared from the decision.

Dr. Register said that Dr. Roszell, as counsel for Dr. Huston, had indicated a purpose to appeal to the next General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

All the papers in the case were handed over to the Secretary of the Conference.

Bishop Duggett then remarked:—"According to the report of the committee, Dr. D. Huston is expelled from the Methodist Episcopal Church South, upon the charges as reported, and that is an end to this case."

It will be remembered that the charges against Dr. Huston were for seduction of a Sunday school scholar attending Trinity church, of which he was pastor at the time, and grossly immoral conduct with other young girls. A committee, appointed by the conference a year since to investigate the charges, found that they were sustained, and on the 6th of this month, on the meeting of the present Conference, submitted their report, which was referred to the committee on discipline to a constitutional conference.

The committee consisting of Rev. Dr. Bussey, Rev. J. Clark and Rev. A. P. Bond. On the following day the latter committee submitted their report to the Conference to the effect that after careful examination of all the testimony, they deem it necessary to present the charge of immorality with specifications against Rev. Dr. Huston, and recommended the appointment of a committee of trial, as required by the discipline of the Church. The Bishop, announced Rev. S. Register, D.D.; Rev. J. R. Finley, D.D.; Rev. T. B. Sargent, D.D.; Rev. J. C. Dick, Rev. A. B. Dolly, Rev. L. R. Jones, Rev. P. B. Smith, Rev. F. C. Tabb, Rev. J. L. Shipley, Rev. D. Ball, Rev. C. H. Brown, Rev. J. N. Grandin, Rev. J. Higgins and Rev. J. Townsend as such committee. It is the report of this latter committee, consisting of divines all eminent in the church, which was submitted this morning.

Dr. Huston was represented before the committee by Dr. Roszell, his counsel, aided by outside legal counsel. The General Conference of the church to which appeal will probably be taken, does not meet until Aug. 1874. Dr. Huston has not been present during the session of the Conference nor before the committee. His parliament as deacon in the church was handed in to the Conference this morning.

Two of our young men walked five miles into the country last week, to get to ride back in a buggy. So one of the boys tells on them.

We are happy to learn that Mr. Lawson Stewart, who was some time back sent to the Tusculum Asylum for the insane, from this county, has returned to his home entirely restored. We also learn that Mrs. Marlowe, of this place, who was violently insane when sent to the same place, is now clothed in her right mind. Her husband has gone after her.

Friday night before last the Good Templars organization of this place formed in procession and marched to the Baptist church to hear a lecture on temperance. Quite a number of people outside of the organization were also present to hear the lecture, which had been previously announced. Rev. Mr. Thompson, of the M. E. Church at this place, delivered the lecture.

We direct attention to the advertisement of A. W. Ledbetter, (with Jehial Read & Co., New York), which we place in the local column this week, in order that it may more readily attract the attention of our merchants who contemplate making a trip to New York this season. Mr. Ledbetter is one of the best business men among the young men of our State; is ever courteous and polite, honorable and truthful—just such a man as the merchant visiting New York would be fortunate to strike. The house he represents is one of the very best in the city. We hope that merchants who go from this part of Alabama to New York, this season, will seek Mr. Ledbetter, and through him make a liberal portion of their purchases in the line of goods kept by Jehial Read & Co.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Gen. J. W. Burke, offering China Poland Pigs for sale.

In speaking of Banking or Insurance establishments we are more than usually careful. Hence until now we have not noticed the advertisement of the Mobile Life Insurance Company. We have thoroughly investigated and find the company to be sound, safe and possessing claims on our people. This company, although only 20 months old, has 1400 policy holders and the receipts have been net $170,000. Interest has more than paid the death losses up to this time. The Gadsden Branch of this Institution has 60 policy holders and $4000 accommodations. The efficient agent of the Company located at Gadsden, R. O. Randall, has taken 17 applications for policies amounting to $10,000 insurance in the past two weeks.

Immense sums of money are sent North for insurance every year. The feature in this company is that the money is not only kept in the State, but in the very locality where the insured one lives. It is a Southern institution, and all things being equal, should be preferred to Northern Companies. It is as good as any of them. It is an Alabama Company, and specially has claims upon Alabamians.

Col. Parr is receiving one of the largest and best assorted Stocks of Plantation and Family Groceries ever brought to Jacksonville; Bacon and Pork Hams, Bulk and Bacon Sides and Shoulders, Dried Beef, Mince-meat and Kroust, Pigs Feet, Pickles by the gallon, and every good thing to eat. Also a large lot of Garden Seeds and the best assortment of Irish Potatoes ever shipped to Jacksonville.

A Disease with a Thousand Symptoms.

Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the sufferer often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive function necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects, to some extent, the quality of the blood. A medicine that, like Hysteria's Bitters, not only tones the stomach, but at the same time controls the liver, produces a regular habit of body, braces the nerves, purifies the fluids and "ministers to a mind diseased," is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion. Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative. It not only cures dyspepsia, but also all its concomitants and consequences. Moreover, it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion. No one who chooses to take half a wineglassful of this agreeable aperient and stomachic, habitually three times a day, will ever be troubled with oppression after eating, nausea, or sour eructations, or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs. The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters, and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life "as through a glass, darkly," will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant.

BEWARE OF MERCURIALS.

The distrust of preparations containing Mercury was never greater than now. Indeed, there is good cause for the belief, that this powerful poison, once taken into the system, can never be entirely expelled. For liver diseases, torpidity of liver, biliousness, jaundice, and similar complaints, a purely vegetable remedy like Dr. William Brazier's Liver Medicine, is much to be preferred. The discoverer of this celebrated medicine, who lived to be upwards of one hundred years old, was a celebrated South Carolina Physician.

READ THE TESTIMONY. Rozelle & Co., at O. K. Landing, Miss. River, state their customers are highly delighted with the specific effect of Dr. William Brazier's Liver Medicine. They claim this remedy has fully answered all the purposes of Blue Mass, Colman and other alternatives, by its prompt action on the liver, regulating the flow of bile, and neutralizing its miasmatic influence. Chills and Fever, Jaundice, Torpid Liver, and all those diseases originating from miasma, are promptly cured by the use of this great Liver Medicine. They further state their sales are enormous and constantly increasing.

This Institution has achieved a success which is unparalleled in the history of Commercial Colleges. Starting in Atlanta, Ga., May 9th, 1871, with four students, it has already sent out to the business world nearly THREE HUNDRED STUDENTS to attest its superior merits. The secret of its wonderful success is, that it is the only College in the South that is conducted on the ACTUAL BUSINESS PLAN, and it keeps up to the letter of its advertisement. It is conducted by men who have had years of experience as practical accountants, business men, and teachers. The total cost for the course including board, washing, tuition, books, and stationery will not exceed $120.

JACKSONVILLE, ALA., March 17th, 1873.

To the Agricultural Society of Calhoun County, Alabama.

Gentlemen—I am advised by the Commissioner of Agriculture at Washington that he has forwarded at the suggestion of the Hon. Jno. H. Caldwell, packages of field and garden seeds for this society to the address of your corresponding Secretary. I am also informed that those seeds are at the post office at this place.

I beg leave hereby to give notice to the members of said society that on the 17th day of September last, the said commissioner informed me that the Department, upon information, the said commissioner had received in the month of May, previously, which he considered reliable, he had ordered the Calhoun County Agricultural Society to be stricken from the list of societies at the said Department; that he considered the same literally dead. Subsequently I have taken, in correspondence with the Department, no issues upon the allegations assigned for the disrespect shown to the society upon hearsay reports or upon the ungentlemanly communications of an outside carpet-bag villain, a self constituted jail guardian of the national public.

I received the information of expunging our name from the list, in answer to my note of inquiry why, in response to my monthly communications I received no quarterly reports. I have studiously sought of the so-called Hon. Commissioner the name of his informant. In his reply to my two first notes he avoided the question; to my third note presented by the Hon. J. H. Caldwell, the Department condescended, to say the name of the society is now restored to the list of societies again. In this note the seeds, as above, are mentioned, but upon the subject of the author of this reliable information received by the Department of our defunct comrade, he says "it would be impossible at this late period to furnish the desired information." Thus gentlemen you see this Hon. Commissioner, head of the Agricultural Bureau of the North American Republic, has taken official action upon testimony and cannot, ninety days thereafter, give the name of the witness upon whose evidence this action was taken. The Hon. Commissioner has so short and remarkable defective memory, large business, no means of record, no salaried clerks—such Mr. Spradling Swank. For one, I am willing to send these seeds back to the Department and have nothing more to do with it for a long time.

Before I could consent to plant of these seeds I would prefer to throw aside the implements of husbandry, the arts and refinements of the age, adopt the principles enunciated in the speech of the Indian warrior; Tockmash, delivered at Tuckabatchee, in 1812. Go to the far West, dress in skins subsist by hunting.

If, however, any or all of the society desire the seeds, I wish you to take them, together with the blank interrogatories asked to be answered by the Commissioner.

I am proud and thankful for the testimonial of confidence offered by the appointment to office and now return the trust thus reposed.

E. T. READ.

An Election Law.

The House has passed an Election Law which only needs a section requiring all voters in the county to poll their ballots in their respective precincts to make it very nearly all that could be asked. It contains the feature of the right of challenge, and it also punishes in an appropriate manner all fraudulent voting. We trust that it may be acceptable to a majority of both Houses of the General Assembly to require Precinct voting; but give us the Law as it stands if nothing better can be done.

Western papers state that members of Congress from that section found, on returning home, that their salary grab was so unpopular that they devoted large portions of it to charity, hoping thus to appease public wrath.

city desire the seeds, I wish you to take them, together with the blank interrogatories asked to be answered by the Commissioner. I am proud and thankful for the testimonial of confidence offered by the appointment to office and now return the trust thus reposed. E. T. READ.

An Election Law.

The House has passed an Election Law which only needs a section requiring all voters in the county to poll their ballots in their respective precincts to make it very nearly all that could be asked. It contains the feature of the right of challenge, and it also punishes in an appropriate manner all fraudulent voting. We trust that it may be acceptable to a majority of both Houses of the General Assembly to require Precinct voting; but give us the Law as it stands if nothing better can be done.

Montgomery Advertiser.

Major J. H. Francis has again become the editor and proprietor of the Montgomery Commercial, and has changed its name back to the Advance. Major Francis is a real live newspaper man, is a writer of force and brilliancy, and we have no doubt the Advance will become a power. We wish him the greatest success.—Selma Times.

Western papers state that members of Congress from that section found, on returning home, that their salary grab was so unpopular that they devoted large portions of it to charity, hoping thus to appease public wrath.

"There were giants in those days," said Jones, speaking of the days of Webster, Clay and Calhoun. "Yes," said Muggins, "and there are thieves in these days."

These well known and excellent Sewing machines, which have stood the test of years, and believed by many good judges to be equal, if not superior, to any of the most modern improvements, which took the premium at the late Georgia State Fair, as the best Family Sewing Machine, also the best manufacturing machine, will be for sale in this section of Alabama.

SAD CASUALTY.—On Thursday, the 20th inst., Ansel Gidley, 2nd son of James Gidley, Jr., about 13 years of age, was found hanging by the neck in his father's Tan-yard shop.

The most singular part of the transaction is the fact that he was found hanging on a leather string tied to a beam above, but not tied around his neck, only passed under his chin. A little sister saw him and ran to the house, telling her mother he had a fit; but before the mother reached him he was entirely dead. Whether it was accidental, or a case of suicide, must ever remain in doubt and mystery.

Tragedies on the A. & C. Railroad.

We have been permitted to take the following extract from a private letter received in this place; and have heard it suggested that the homicide at Collinsville may have been accidental.

"By the way—there were three men murdered on the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad on Sunday last—a Conductor of the road at Meridian, Miss. The Ass't Superintendent murdered by the Operator at Tuskegee, and a Negro at Collinsville, all happened Sunday and Sunday night—horrible, is it not?"

Col. JOHN D. HORE, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of our town and county, and one of the first settlers of this place, died at his residence on Monday morning last, in the 71st year of his age. He had been declining for some months, but not violently attacked until about the third day before his death.

We expect to be furnished with a suitable tribute to his memory for publication in our next.

ENTERPRISE IN BUSINESS.

We like enterprise, and we know of no class of business men displaying more of it than the newspaper publishers of America. The Publishers of our Presidio Friend, Chicago, announce this week in our columns their second Annual Distribution of premium to subscribers. This excellent Story and Family weekly is now in its third volume. Its success has been great. It is firmly established as one of the leading weeklies of the Union, with the largest circulation of any paper in the West. Its success may in no slight degree be attributed to its method of distributing premium which is permanent with this paper, being held annually. Its distribution last year gave general satisfaction. Their list of premiums is fine and secure to every subscriber for 1873 a premium either in cash or some one of the valuable articles mentioned in the list. We cheerfully recommend the paper. Their plan of distributing premiums is a notable part of their well conducted enterprise and our readers need have no doubt as to their being fairly dealt with. The paper is a financial success. Its immense circulation enable its publishers to offer this valuable list of premiums and to fully carry out their plan of distributing them.

Specimen copies of the paper and premium list giving full particulars may be had by addressing the Publishers Chicago.

Now stop saying "Times are hard," "can't get anything to do," &c., &c., and write at once to the undersigned, who will guarantee RESPECTABLE and PROFITABLE employment to all who desire it, both MALE and FEMALE, and send full particulars free. Address immediately, M. R. SCULLIN & CO., Main street, Okolona, Miss. mar-20—4t.

Not Over-Estimated.

We have received from the publishers of OUR FINEST FRIEND the chromo "Cute," which they give away to every subscriber to their weekly. We have read much of the beauty of this picture before seeing it, and we now say with pleasure that its value and beauty has been over-estimated. OUR FINEST FRIEND has successfully reached its third year and is already highly prized and widely known throughout the Union.

Letter From Rev. A. B. THOMAS, PEABODY HOTEL, Memphis, Feb. 6, 1871.

Messrs. Mansfield & Higbee: DEAR SIRS: I wish to say a few words relative to your Liver Medicine, called Dr. Wm. Brazier's Liver Cordial, which has proven itself to be the very best medicine I have ever known for the relief of Liver Complaints and all sympathetic affections attendant upon a deranged or disordered Liver. I have been a sufferer nearly all my life, more or less from what is termed torpidity or want of action of the Liver and secretions, which seemed to be inherited, as my father was similarly afflicted. I have tried many specifics, so called, and have even changed my locality, being advised by physicians that a change of climate would be beneficial. From all the means thus employed I have found only temporary relief for a short time. During the summer a friend advised me to try Dr. Brazier's Liver Medicine, his case having been similar to my own, until he was cured by its use. I procured from Birwin, Pendleton & Co., of Nashville, a half-dozen bottles, and took it regularly with the best results. I consider myself about twenty years younger than I was a year ago. My whole system seems to have undergone a thorough change. All symptoms of debility and sluggishness have disappeared; elasticity of body and mind which were only despondency and gloom. I cheerfully recommend this great rejuvenator of the human system wherever I go, and hope its merits may be known far and wide.

Yours, truly, A. B. THOMAS.

The Eastman Atlanta Business College.

This Institution has achieved a success which is unparalleled in the history of Commercial Colleges. Starting in Atlanta, Ga., May 9th, 1871, with four students, it has already sent out to the business world more than THREE HUNDRED STUDENTS to attest its superior merits. The secret of its wonderful success is, it is the only College in the South that is conducted on the ACTUAL BUSINESS PLAN. It keeps up, to the letter, the actual operations of business, and is conducted by men who have had years of experience as practical accountants, business men, and teachers. The total cost for a full course including board, washing, tuition, books, and stationery will not exceed $120.
